When the pinnacle of automotive sports luxury wanted to celebrate it's 70th anniversary in style...

Ferrari turned to us.

Gio-Art provided everything (with the exception of the gorgeous cars) to make this happen.

We literally rolled out the red carpet - and made a street-level showroom, that put the finest offerings from the automaker's fabled history on full display.

From lighting, sound equipment, barricades, permits, security, street teams, wi-fi hotspots, down to the actual red carpet, we made Ferrari's 70th birthday initiative, turn-key.

Covered by The New York Times, USA Today, The Wall Street Journal, The Daily News, Esquire, WPIX, Fox News, NBC, CBS, ABC and affiliates, 1010 Wins, Men's Health, Motor Trend, Bloomberg, NY 1, and many others.

When Coke decided to bring its Open Happiness brand promise to the streets...
they turned to us.

We developed and populated the city with Happiness Globes at the Avenue of Americas Street Fair, to serve as branded oases from the chaos of the Big Apple.

Once inside, visitors were treated to Coca-Cola products, Coke-themed art created by some of the city's hottest up and-coming artists, and chill vibes provided by popular NYC DJs. Not to mention wi-fi-enabled lounge areas complete with streaming television services where everyday New Yorkers could sit back, relax, and open a moment of happiness for themselves.

In other locations, additional booth configurations were created to mimic the appearance of Coca-Cola vending machines.

Inside, visitors were treated to smaller scale surprise-and-delight experiences that fulfilled the brand's ongoing promise.

During the time this initiative ran,

Coca-Cola became the third-highest trending brand across social media networks in the New York metropolitan area.
